I used to be a genealogist/family historian; now I spend most of my time with the administrative duties of our ever-growing membership - writing letters, composing and maintaining our homepage on the Internet, coordinating our HCPD Online Discussion Group, looking for grants and writing them, keeping our computers up-to-date with all the information you send us, acting as liaison between HCPD and several other organizations throughout the state, sharing our heritage with schoolchildren and adult groups, and all kinds of other things. My duties are varied and never dull.

HCPD is spreading its wings and taking part in several conferences throughout the US this year - thanks to help from members everywhere. Joyce Chambers will have an HCPD table at the Indiana State Genealogy Conference in South Bend, April 11-13. April 19-20 HCPD will be sharing a table with Wood County, OH, and Holmes County, OH, chapters of the Ohio Genealogy Society at their annual conference in Cincinnati. April 27 we will have a space at the Mining Your History Spring Swap in Gassaway, West Virginia.

If your state is having a conference, you think HCPD might benefit from a table there, and you'd be willing to "man" it, give us a call and we'll talk about it. I'd especially like to see us participate in conferences in Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, California, Arizona, and Washington State. These are places that so many descendants from this area are located.

HCPD is now a member of the Federation of Genealogical Societies and the National Genealogy Society. I am seriously considering attending the FGS conference the week after our gathering.

There's a lot of excitement about the heritage book and "your" stories. No deadline has been set, but we'd appreciate an early submission of stories.

I'm sure we'll be seeing many of you throughout the summer. I, for one, am looking forward to your visits.

CHARLIE

Greetings to all,

We have good news to report in this Journal. As you can see, your Journals are coming faster, thanks to our volunteers and our part-time office girl. Michelle Messenger is doing a great job and has brought us the help we so desperately need. Michelle and her computer are doing the jobs that used to take the volunteers hours to do. Now the volunteers have time to work on other projects we have been trying to get done for a long time.

Deeds books are being abstracted, archival collections (photos and manuscripts) are being sorted and catalogued, and the editorial staff has managed to catch-up on the "Journals" and "Up the Creek". In addition, the staff has produced our first Potpourri, a publication very similar to this Journal with lots of good articles for your information and enjoyment. New volunteers have come forth to help with indexing "Yesteryears" and to work on the Heritage book.

We are always looking for help and, thanks to the computer age, it is possible for members to volunteer and help through E-mail and the Internet. And, when all else fails, there's always Uncle Sam's postal service.

Our new mailing system is doing great. We are sending replies in two or three days, but sometimes the harder answers take longer. When you send for information, please give us a date to go with the name or a general time period and location if possible. We can't find the needle in the haystack until we find the haystack; so, please, send proper information to help us help you.

Some of you have been concerned about your queries not appearing in the "Journal" as soon as you think they should. Preparing a "Journal" and getting it to you is a several weeks process. Once Linda Meyers has finished the manuscript, it takes about six weeks for it to reach you - if we're lucky. After he has received the camera-ready copy, the printer will take from two to four weeks to get our printed issues back to us. We usually manage to get them to the post office no more than two days after receiving them from the printer. The post office can take from three days to three weeks to get them to you. Generally, by the time you receive your "Journal", the next issue is nearing completion.

A good example is this issue. I wrote this letter on March 4. Our daughter in Millersburg, Ohio (200 miles from the library) has not yet received her Issue 1 which was mailed two weeks ago, but some of you in far away places have had yours long enough to write to us about it. Only Uncle Sam knows the answer to that problem!

We're doing our best, but can always use more help. If any of you know a philanthropist who'd like to take us on as a project, tell him about us. We're 501(c)3 (not-for-profit and tax deductible) and will appreciate all donations.

God bless

Charlie

RAP WITH RAYDINE

March 1996 It's Springtime?

After days of shirt-sleeve and shorts weather, we awoke to find an inch of snow, icy roads and a chill factor I don't even want to think about. We hope this temporary cold snap will not stem the flow of visitors to the library. Early in February members and visitors appeared in numbers and we expect even more traffic in March.

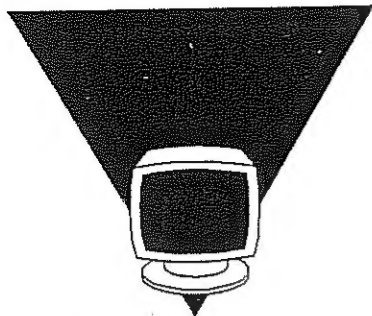

I'll don my "correspondence" hat to report that letters are pouring into our office. We are on schedule with orders for books and with processing new memberships and renewals. Our system of asking any available member to assist with the task of answering specific questions has shortened the answering time. When we do not have the time to delve deeply into a request, we will suggest that you place a query in the Hacker's Creek Journal or we will send names of members who might help you.

My editor's hat sits "uneasy on my head" but I keep trying. Joy is our guru, but with her many responsibilities she couldn't continue as editor. Linda is the "head honcho," putting the journal together, setting the format and doing all the technical tasks. I continue to proofread, encourage, battle with printers and zipcodes, and see that journals reach the post office in good order.

We have had a few cards and letters from those who don't care for too much variety in format and print style and we will take their criticisms seriously. Some enjoy the changes - so - however you feel about the journals, we know you are reading them. Let us hear from you by phone, card, or E-mail. Please consider sending some material to us. We will appreciate everything you send.

Until next time - Happy reading
Raydine

Have you ever wondered why you sometimes do not get answers from folks you send "queries" too? Did you forget to enclose a SASE?

COMPUTER USER SURVEY

First I would like to thank all who responded to the Computer User Survey, I guess especially to Dave Kuhl who approached me about doing it last August at our annual gathering. Many of us are finding that computers are an easy way to store data extracted from records of all types and for quick location of particular information. Also a very great advantage in exchanging information with fellow researchers through the use of GEDCOM files as most programs with use of Gedcom files, easily convert files to your particular program, saving hours of typing or copying of material.

It appears at this time that about 13 to 15 percent of the members of Hackers Creek Pioneer Descendants are using computers for handling of different tasks in their genealogy research. This is storage of research material, contact other researchers from all over our country and the world as well, also able to stay in contact with HCPD library via our INTERNET connection: hcpd@westvirginia.com.

The survey forms which were returned to me show that the IBM-compatible computers are the most prominent ones, XT's to Pentium models and 5 members are using Apple machines. There are 59 members that have modems installed in machines they are using, 49 with CD-Roms. Also 47 are using on-line services, several are using more than one service. 20 use America OnLine, 12 use Prodigy, 9 use Compuserve and 20 are using Internet either through their on-line service or an ISP, (Internet Service Provider). So far it appears no one has taken up Bill Gates (Microsoft) on using his online service.

Also in the use of programs we have a large list. Members are using both commercial and shareware programs in maintaining records. The most popular still seems to be PAF(Personal Ancestral File) 28 users, next coming up fast appears to be Family Tree Maker with 21 users, then ROOTS, 11 users with several different versions of it being used. The surprise was how few are now using what was once very popular Brothers Keeper with 7 users, also at 7 users is Family Origins. The others used are Family Roots -3, Family Reunion -3, Family Edge-2, Master Genealogist -2, Cumberland Tree 1, Personal Roots -1, Visual Roots -1, GED Companion -1. We also have two users who wrote their own program for maintaining their family records.

If we have any new members and any who have not submitted a survey reply previously, if you will contact me at OPCorley@aol.com, I will sent you a form via E-mail.

A few quick definitions:

BBS Bulletin Board Service: These are normally setup and maintained by hobbyists who are very computer oriented and have large groups of computer program files. Most times in the thousands and are freeware and shareware programs(see below). They also carry messages which are passed from one area to another via phone networks setup by them they cover the world and most of the time within their dialing area to keep expenses down. The costs of maintaining these systems are normally the operator's, not many charge for the use of their board for the exchange of files and messages. They are a great service to fellow computer users.

FREEWARE These are programs written by computer hobbyists that you can use without registering or paying for using them. Many of these are small utility programs for doing different tasks on the computer easier.

SHAREWARE The difference is that you can try SHAREWARE programs first before paying the author for the use of his program. Many good programs have been written by shareware authors. Two Genealogy programs that I am familiar with are The Family Edge DOS based (the one I use) and The Cumberland Tree which is a windows based program also being used by one of our members.

ISP Internet Service Provider.

IRC Chat A service that allows large group conversations over the Internet.

Free-Net An organization to provide free internet access to people in a certain area, usually through public libraries.

Mail Reflector A special mail address; electronic mail sent to this address is automatically forwarded to a set of addresses. Typically, used to implement a mail discussion group.

Descendants Of Thomas H. Miles

Fellowship and celebration are on the top of the list.

We will gather at noon on July 7, 1996 at Lewis Park near Weston, WV for good fellowship, a dish to pass and an update on family history. The family has been traced to the 1600s in Charles City County, VA so there is plenty to share in update.....Sue Miles Sleeth Family Reunion will be held Sunday, June 23, 1996, at the Doddridge County Park (south of US 50). Arrive about 11 am (we will eat later) with a dish to share with others and any beverage you might like. If you have any SLEETH memorabilia, photographs or family stories bring them along to share. For information call 410-825-3367.

NEW TOMBSTONE FOR PETER AND CHARLOTTE HARDMAN NEEDED

by Harold Dwayne Hardman & Kim Maxwell

I am a descendant of Peter and Charlotte Hardman, the first of the Hardman family to settle in the Hacker's Creek area. I often stop by Harmony Cemetery where they are buried. The cemetery is well kept and the caretakers deserve our praise. On a recent visit, I noticed the condition of Charlotte's tombstone. It is deteriorating and about ready to fall over. Peter has none at all!

If you have visited this cemetery, you may have noticed that just to the left of Peter's and Charlotte's graves is a new tombstone for Peter and Catherine Waggoner. It was erected by their descendants. Seeing this tombstone gave me an idea: Why can't the descendants of Peter and Charlotte Hardman do the same thing? They deserve a new one!

I am willing to see that the old one is replaced with a new one, but I cannot do it alone. A new stone will be about $1000. As they have done with other tombstone replacements (John and Margaret Sleeth Hacker at Morrison Cemetery and, most recently, the Bonnett stones at Harmony and the William Allman stone at Lorentz), the Hacker's Creek Pioneer Descendants have agreed to serve as a repository for any donated funds and to assure payment once we have enough funds in our account. By doing it this way, all donations for the tombstone are tax deductible for you.

Make your check payable to the Hacker's Creek Pioneer Descendants and indicate that it is for the Hardman Tombstone. A record will be kept of all donations and donors will be recognized in a future Journal.

June 2, 1883 - "Weston Democrat"

It is said the remains of the late Rev. Samuel Clawson, the famous revivalist will shortly be removed from the cemetery at this place to the scene of his former labors in Pa. Some objection is made by his friends here.

April 21, 1883 - "Weston Democrat"

Charley Hyre, merchant of Austin married in Oakland, Maryland, Wednesday, to Fronie Shaffer of Austin. They didn't marry at home cause the old folks "wasn't willin' ". As is usual in such cases, it all ended in happy result, above stated.

Benoni T. Powers Family

by Michael O. Gould

Benoni T. Powers was born 4 July 1815, in Virginia, a son of William and Jemima Powers probably of Highland Co., WV.

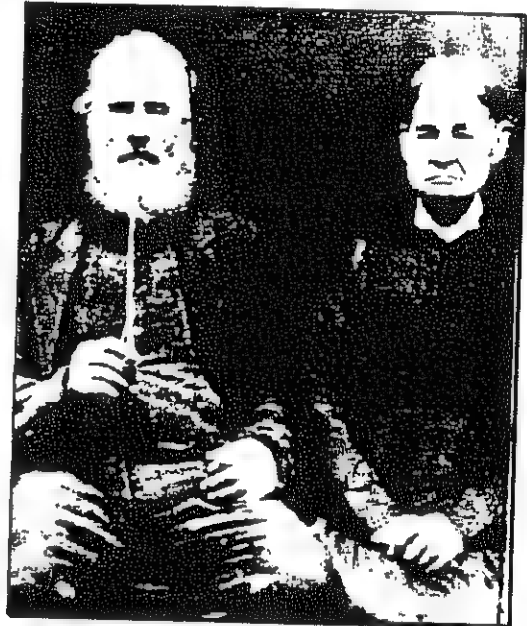

Benoni T. Powers came to Lewis Co. in the early 1830's, following a man named Michael Waybright who was either a close friend or a relative. In 1836, Michael Waybright signs as a bondsman with Benoni for a marriage license.

On 13 Sept. 1836, Benoni T. Powers married Elizabeth W. McCally, the daughter of Henry and Sarah M. (Alkire) McCally. Elizabeth was born about 1815, in Lewis Co.

In 1842, Benoni T. Powers purchased a parcel of land from Michael Waybright, located on Wards Run. Through the next 20 to 30 years he makes several purchases on Wards Run.

It is here that Ben and Elizabeth raise a family of eleven children:

1. Prudence Eliza b. 1837
2. Newton J. b 1838
3. Susan Cordela b. 1840
4. Henry Lafayett b. 1842
5. Benoni Columbus b. 6 July 1843
6. Martha Ellen b. 1847
7. Lysander b. 1849
8. Charles A. b. 1850
9. Walter f. b. 1853
10. Elihu Reed b. 25 Dec. 1854
11. James b. 30 April 1856

Benoni T. Powers and wife
Elizabeth W. McCally Powers

In 1861, when the Civil War broke out, the older sons Newton, Henry and Benoni C. went to join the Confederate cause. It is interesting to note that Elizabeth's father, Henry McCally, was accused of supporting the Confederates and was "disenfranchised". He moved to Kentucky and died there.

In 1881, a deed is recorded between Benoni T. Powers, and Elizabeth his wife, of the first part and George Hamner, James McCray, Charles A. Powers, Benoni C. Powers and Richard C. Hawkins, (trustees), of the second part, witnesseth: That for and in consideration of the love they bear for the cause of Christ and from an earnest desire to promote his heritage on earth, the parties of the first part do grant unto the parties of the second part the following tract or parcel of land... and so it was done the land and materials were donated and a structure built for worship which was first known as the Powers Church and later renamed Marvin's Chapel of the M. E. Church South. This building was torn down sometime in the 1940's.

Elizabeth W. Powers passed away 16 April 1887, and is buried in the Marvin's Chapel cemetery. Benoni T. Powers died 26 Aug. 1891, and was buried beside his wife. His will is on record in the Lewis Co. courthouse.

Prudence Eliza never married and resided in Barboursville, Cabell Co. and died there in 1911.

Newton J. married _____ Arbuckle after the war and moved to Missouri where he died in 1912.

Susan Cordela married Richard C. Hawkins and resided near Roanoke.

Dr. Henry Lafayett married Mary J. Norton and ran a store and hotel in the village of Roanoke. On Sept. 15, 1882, late in the evening, he was shot as he stood in the doorway of his store. This shooting may not have been fatal, for his tombstone is dated 22 Dec. 1886, in the Marvin's Chapel cemetery.

Benoni Columbus married Polly Malinda Watson and resided in the lower part of Lewis Co., near Wildcat. He died 30 Nov. 1929, at the home of his son in Webster Co. and is buried in the Powers cemetery near Wildcat.

Martha Ellen married David Berry who became sheriff of Braxton Co. She died there 19 Mar. 1889.

Lysander apparently died before 1860, as he is not in the census of 1860, or mentioned in his father's will.

Charles A. married Sarah E. Bennett and lived for awhile in Missouri and later returned to West Virginia. Charles was a Methodist minister.

Walter F. married Martha A. Morrison and James married a Chandler. They both moved out west around Colorado and Idaho.

Elihu Reed married a Davis.

Any additions or corrections would be greatly appreciated. Send a SASE to Michael O. Gould, 3713 Edgewater Dr., Vermilion, OH 44089. All will be answered.

Dear HCPD.

I enjoyed the opportunity to visit with all of you during the HCPD Gathering, just wish I had more time to spend with you.

I wish to add my sincere thanks to the entire staff for the work you all do to make HCPD the great society it is. For the society to grow to over 800 members is a tribute to the leadership and outstanding dedicated work of many. Keep up the good work. I have enclosed pictures I took during the gathering for your scrap book.

Sincerely, Larry Francis

CEMETERY RESTORATION

HATS OFF TO THE EAGLES SCOUTS

Light Completes Eagle Scout Project

An Eagle Scout project supervised by Jeff Light of Boy Scout Troop 72 has cleaned and restored the Price-Peterson Cemetery, located high on a hill on Mrs. Marie Keith's property on Kuntz Dr. in Weston.

Light learned of this project through the Hacker's Creek Pioneer Descendants, in which it is H.C.P.D.'s goal to restore all abandoned cemeteries in Lewis County.

In order to have an easier access to the cemetery, Light obtained permission from Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Henry of Edgewood Addn. to go through their property.

Light assigned work schedules to members of Troop 72, adult leaders, and volunteers. At 8:00 am on Sept. 16, the first work day consisted mainly of clearing brush, cutting multi-flora rose, cutting trees, removing some of the old fence and mowing the 50' x 13' cemetery. The monuments that were there were turned over, some were partially buried, some were broken, and some were missing all together. Work concluded on that day around 11:30 am.

Helping Light were Gary Skidmore, Scout Master of Troop 72, committee member Carol Skidmore, Scouts: Matt Lamb, Rick Hornung, Justin Nixon, Calab VanKirk, and Mark Shuman, volunteers: Jerry and Robin Light. Water and Kool-Aid were furnished. Light treated everyone to ice cream at T & L Hotdog.

On Oct. 2, Chuck Gilchrist for H.C.P.D. used a probe to locate any monuments that may still be buried. With none being found, Light could proceed with the next step, leveling the bases.

On Oct. 9, Jerry Light operated a Kubota tractor with backhoe, provided by Light's Mobile Home Park, to raise and level the bases. After that was completed he also used the end loader to fill the graves that were deeply sunken after years of neglect.

The backhoe was then used to raise the monuments atop the bases. With a rope attached from the bucket to the monument, Robin Light worked the controls on the Kubota tractor to raise the heavy monuments, while Jerry Light guided and positioned them into place.

Setting steel fence posts and erecting new fence was the next step. In accordance with H.C.P.D. as much of the original fence was used as possible.

The last work day was on Oct. 17. That consisted of painting the original fence, cleaning the monuments, raking the ground, sowing grass seed, and putting flowers on the graves. Materials used had to be hauled to the cemetery by 4 wheeler and a small trailer provided by Jerry Light.

Those helping Light the last day were Gary Skidmore, Scout Master, Life Scout Rick Hornung, committee member Carol Skidmore, volunteers Jerry and Robin Light.

Light is the son of Jerry and Robin Light of Weston. He is the grandson of Mary Lee Smith of Weston and the late William E. Smith and Sterlie and Catherine Light of Buckhannon. He is a Junior at Lewis County High School, where he is a member of the Chess team. He plans to attend college and study computer animation.

To receive the rank of Eagle Scout, Light must show responsibility and leadership in making a work schedule, planning a budget and overseeing the project to be done.

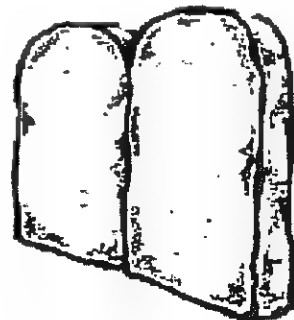

All of the scouts enjoyed working to restore the over 100 year old cemetery. It gave them a great sense of pride to see their achievement. Boy Scout Troop 72 is sponsored by the Broad Street United Methodist Church in Weston.

Material donations were made by Butcher-Layfield Lumber Co., Southern States, Wal-Mart, and Quality Farm and Fleet.

SOME EARLY NOTES ON THE SCOTT FAMILY OF RANDOLPH COUNTY, WEST VIRGINIA

by David Armstrong, 201 Graham St., Elkins, WV, 26241

(Based on research completed as of March 1995)

Few of the pioneer families of the Allegheny Region have been as extensively researched as the family named Scott who came to Randolph County in the late 1700's. Still, regardless of the level of scrutiny to which the early history of this family has been subjected, few family histories have ever been as confused and distorted as this one. Being, by adoption, a direct line descendant of George Hill Sr. (1782 -1867) of the site of South Elkins, and his wife Rebecca Scott, I have long been interested in the history of the Scott families of the region. What follows is a brief outline of my findings after several years of research into the history of the family. I will present the facts as I believe they exist based on original documentation, and where my version of the family history differs from the versions published in the past, I refer the reader to my footnotes which he or she may use to decide for themselves if my conclusions are valid.

While the ancestry of the family back of Randolph County John remains unknown, I am quite convinced that his earliest American ancestor will turn out to be one Alexander Scott (c1690 -1751), the settlement of whose estate is in the records of Augusta County. This Alexander Scott was quite probably one of the thousands of Presbyterians from Northern Ireland (i.e. "Scotch Irish") who immigrated to the American Colonies in the 1700s. This Alexander Scott appears to have left several children, and of these the ones of most interest to our study were John (not John of Randolph), David, and Benjamin. The records of this family even down to this early generation are voluminous, and beyond the scope of this writing. The one of chief interest to the Scotts of Randolph County was John.

This earlier John Scott also died about 1751, and he also left several children.¹ He appears to have been born sometime around the year 1715, and the evidence might suggest that his wife's name was Judith Davis.² Among this earlier John Scott's sons were Jacob, John, and James, and these sons went with their uncle, David Scott, to Scott's Run in what is now Monongalia County, West Virginia, by the early 1770s.³ Again the history of this generation and their exploits on the Monongahela River near Morgantown could fill several articles, but the footnotes provided should be enough to make their link, connection to the Hardy County Scotts mentioned above. It now remains to establish a connection between this family and John Scott of Randolph County.

³ Zinn, Melba P., Monongalia County Records Of District And Superior Court, Bowie, Md, Heritage Books, 1990, page 29: Jacob and James Scott "of Augusta County but residents of Monongalia" 1774; Hardy County Deed Book 2 page 181 1791 David Scott of Monongalia County, heir of James Scott, who was heir of John Scott, in land Lunice Creek, Hardy County.

John Scott first appears in Randolph County in the tax list of 1796. It is suspected, although not proven, that he may have been the John Scott "Jr" in the 1782 Monongalia County tax list, but more research is needed to prove that connection. If he were then he may have been the son of the John Scott "Sr" of the same 1782 tax list. This John Scott "Sr" is thought to be the John Scott, son of John Scott who died in 1751, but again more research is needed to establish the link.

One might wonder why I would want to deal so extensively with this Scott family of Hardy and Monongalia Counties if they cannot be proven as the ancestors of John of Randolph County. The reason is that there is a good deal of evidence, although circumstantial, that this Monongalia County Scott family was the family from which John Scott of Randolph County came.

As was stated above, John Scott appears in the tax list of Randolph County of 1796. He did not live long, however, as his wife Mary was listed in the tax list alone in 1800. The estate of John Scott was sold in October of that year, and his widow married Abraham Kittle Sr in 1805. Earlier that year she had leased a farm in her own name near the present day Elkins Airport from William B. Wilson⁴. One of her nearest neighbors at that location was one John Sproul, and the association between the Scott family and Sproul is key to placing John Scott of Randolph County in the Monongalia County Scott family.

John Sproul first shows up in the tax lists of Randolph County in 1792. It is not certain where he came from or if he was married at the time of his coming to Randolph. He is known to have been a very close associate of the family of John Scott, having an association so close that it is almost certain that he was a relative. His name appears as a witness and in other capacities on several documents relating to the Scott family, and he left the "heirs of John Scott" $1.00 in his will. He married Hester Dawson in Harrison County in 1813, and she had some very definite connections with Monongalia County and the Scott family there.

The maiden name of this Hester Dawson was Hester Foggy. She was a sister of John Foggy, a merchant of Philadelphia, who had immigrated from Ireland (probably Northern Ireland) and who owned land in Monongalia County.⁵ It is not known who the first husband of Hester Foggy Dawson was, but the Dawson family were early settlers on Scott's Mill Run in Monongalia County, and were early neighbors of the Monongalia County Scotts. The names of Thomas, Charles, and William Dawson are frequent on the records there.⁶ Hester Dawson was raising the orphan son of John Foggy, named William Foggy, and in 1813 he was apprenticed by the Harrison County Court to Forbes and Alexander Britton.⁷ This gave Hester Sproul yet another connection to the Monongalia County Scotts, as Forbes Britton was married to Elizabeth Pindle, daughter of Thomas Pindle, and Thomas Pindle had married for a second wife Judith Scott, a probable granddaughter of the John Scott who died in 1751.⁸

So while the ancestry of John Scott remains unproven, we have enough information to make some hypothetical connections. He appears to have had only one relative in the area, John Sproul, and we can definitely connect Sproul's wife to the Scott family and Monongalia County. It is known that Mary, wife of John Scott, was born in Pennsylvania, and Pennsylvania borders Monongalia County. In fact, it would not be unreasonable to assume that she may have been born a Dawson, as she and John Scott named sons Thomas, Charles, and William, and these are names known in the Dawson family of Monongalia County and Pennsylvania. Finally, at about the time John Scott shows up in Randolph County, John Chenoweth, the namesake of Chenoweth Creek, also shows up in the area. He settled on a farm very near the one rented from Wilson by Mary Scott, and Chenoweth's relatives are known to have been on Scott's Mill Run with the Scotts in Monongalia County in the 1770's!⁹ So regardless of what unfounded genealogical connections have been advanced over the years for the origin of John Scott of Randolph County, the EVIDENCE clearly suggests that he came out of the Scott family in Monongalia County, and that he was a descendant of the earlier Scott family in Hardy County. More research is needed to strengthen and prove this assumption.

As much as the ancestry of John Scott has been subject to some misunderstanding, so has the subject of the identity of his children. Some effort was made many years ago to disassociate part of the descendants of John and Mary Scott from the other members of the family, and some have mistakenly placed other Scotts in the family when they do not in fact belong. Hu Maxwell wrongly listed the name of Henry Scott for the bride's father in the marriage record of George Hill and Rebecca Scott, when no such name appears in the actual marriage record. It has also been traditionally thought that Thomas Scott of the area of Haddix Road was a nephew and not a son of John Scott, and this also has been discounted. So it is left to deal with the authentic record of who the children of John Scott were, based on their own paper trail.

As I have stated, John Scott died between 1796 and 1800, and his widow Mary married Abraham Kittle Sr. in 1805. At the time of that marriage Kittle was about 75 years old and Mary was about 39. It is known that he lived on his land grant at what today is known as Sullivan's Crossing near Elkins, as his family members have marked graves in the graveyard there, one dating back to 1801!. So Abraham and Mary (Scott) Kittle were living there during the War of 1812, and he died in 1816. That would have left Mary on the Kittle farm as the senior member of the family. So who was there with her? That question can be answered for certain by one document at the Randolph County courthouse: Chancery File 2, Case 23. In the papers of that court case, in which George H. Scott is asking the court for a deed to the Kittle farm, he states that his father William Scott had lived on the Kittle place for 30 years at the time of his

Not only does Chenoweth arrive about the same time as John Scott, but he had land dealings with the same family!

(William's) death in 1844. So that document conclusively places William Scott on the Kittle farm in 1814, eight years before he married!

William Scott's brother Charles was older, and it appears that he became the head of household. The 1820 census shows him with a female born before 1775, and I believe this to be Mary Scott Kittle. Proof that Charles Scott lived on the Kittle farm can be found in Randolph County Deed Book 10 at page 345, when in 1830 he lost his title to the farm due to debts. His life seems to have been falling apart about that time. His wife Agnes died about then, and given Charles' financial problems it appears that William Scott, mentioned above, who had married Ann Clark from the farm next door, took over as head of household on the Kittle farm.

William Scott died in 1844, and so did Rebecca (Scott) Hill, wife of George Hill. She and Hill lived on a neighboring farm at what is now Riverview Addition to the City of Elkins. These farms and the Clark farm are all in sight of each other. So William's death left his wife Ann living on the Kittle place with several minor children. She then remarried to George Hill, and moved over to his farm, leaving Mary Scott Kittle probably still on the Kittle farm alone. At the time Charles Scott appears to have been living in a common law marriage with Jane Kittle, his deceased wife's sister, and Mary Scott Kittle appears to have moved out to the Haddix Road farm of her other son, Thomas Scott.

In 1905 Solomon Scott died. He was a son of William and Ann (Clark) Scott, and he lived on his grandfather John Clark's farm, directly across the river from Elkins' present day Riverview Addition. In Solomon Scott's obituary in the Randolph Enterprise,¹⁰ it clearly states that his father William, and Charles, and Thomas Scott were brothers, and this evidence when considered with the circumstantial evidence in the preceding three paragraphs clearly proves who three of the children of John Scott were. Further circumstantial evidence will show that there were others.

Rebecca Scott married George Hill in 1812. Charles Scott (above) married Agnes Kittle in 1813, and Elizabeth Scott married Alexander McQuain in 1815. All three of these weddings were performed by the Reverend John Rowan. He lived on what is now Georgetown Road across the river from the Abraham Kittle farm, so this implies that these persons were in the vicinity of the Kittle place at the time of their marriages. Elizabeth McQuain named a son George Hill McQuain, and William Scott (above) named a son George H. Scott! So two of the Scotts named sons after George Hill, husband of Rebecca Scott! This evidence will place Elizabeth Scott McQuain as a sibling of Rebecca Scott Hill and William Scott, and since we know from the Solomon Scott obituary that William was a brother of Thomas and Charles, we have three girls placed as probable sisters in this family. In 1984, when Bill Rice wrote his book, THE ANCESTRY AND DESCENDANTS OF BENJAMIN THIXTON SCOTT, he became, so far as I know, the first historian to deal in any detail with the family of John and Mary Scott. Mr. Rice stated that, based on circumstantial evidence, the above persons were children of John and Mary Scott, but he did not present such evidence in any detail. I in turn set out to test his theory, to see if I would arrive at the same conclusions independently. Based on the above and other evidence I have decided that the chapter in Bill Rice's book dealing with John Scott is accurate in its dealing with who the children of Scott were. In addition to the children presented above, Bill Rice and I have decided independent of each other that Prudence Scott, who married Henry Hardman, and John Scott, who begins to show up in the records of Randolph County about 1813 are also children of John and Mary Scott. I cannot present such solid evidence to plead the case for Prudence Hardman, but this younger John Scott was a constant associate of the Kittle family, witnessing their wills and buying at their estates, etc. Where he went I do not know. In addition to dealing in some detail with the family of John Scott, Bill Rice's Scott history also discounts the assumption, first advanced by Hu Maxwell, that Benjamin Thixton Scott, a resident of Randolph County contemporary with John Scott, was a son of John Scott. Rice presented credible evidence that Benjamin Thixton Scott was actually born Benjamin THIXTON, and that Benjamin Thixton did not even begin to go by the name of Scott until adulthood, when he married. Since the publication of Mr. Rice's book new evidence has come to light that proves conclusively that his conclusions about Benjamin Thixton Scott were correct. An affidavit book in the Randolph county courthouse shows two affidavits dated May and June 1847 in which John Light and Levi Coberly appeared in court and testified that Benjamin Thickson Scott was:

"the identical person to who Scythman Homan willed two certain tracts ... in the name of Benjamin Thickson only...."

The Rice publication together with the above documentation prove that Benjamin Thixton Scott was born Benjamin Thixton and took the name of Scott later in life, and was NOT a son of John and Mary Scott as his sketch in Maxwell's History of Randolph County says.

So in conclusion, John Scott of Randolph county appears to have been from the Scott family who were in the Hardy County area in the 1750s, although his connection to that family is based on some circumstantial evidence. He seems to have come to Randolph from the Monongalia County vicinity about 1796, died by 1800, and left a widow named Mary who married Abraham Kittle Sr. Solid evidence will show that he left four sons: Thomas, Charles, John, and William. Further circumstantial evidence will show that in addition to those sons John Scott left three daughters, namely Prudence, wife of Henry Hardman; Rebecca, wife of George Hill Sr.; and Elizabeth, wife of Alexander McQuain. I hope that the above will serve to discount a persistent family tradition that the John Scott family comes from an Alexander Scott family in Pennsylvania.¹¹

¹¹ A Brief History Of The Scott Family by James Richard Scott, unpublished manuscript. While this manuscript is unpublished, so many copies have been circulated that we will probably never be rid of it. It claims to trace the Scott family from a Samuel Scott from Scotland to a Thomas and Eunice Scott of 1790s Washington County, Pennsylvania, and finally to an Alexander Scott who married a Rebecca Crawford in Lancaster County. These family connections are pure fiction. It would seem that James Riddle Scott was a victim, for it apparently was the late Mary Genevieve Ward, herself a Scott descendant and researcher, who first advanced these connections based on "research in Pennsylvania". It also was apparently Ms. Ward who worked pretty hard to disassociate Thomas Scott's descendants from those of his brothers William and Charles. Ms. Ward claimed that Thomas was a COUSIN of William and Thomas, but the Solomon Scott obituary mentioned above proves the error of that statement. Further, research trips into Washington, Greene, and Fayette Counties in Pennsylvania have satisfied me that the Alexander Scott and Thomas Scott of the Scott manuscript never existed there. While the names of Thomas and Alexander Scott do appear there, the details bear NO resemblance to the persons described in the Scott manuscript. Interested persons would do well to remember that the ancestry of the Scott family back of John remain unknown.

Perhaps the above will provide a basis for further study by more thorough and competent researchers. Much work is needed to document or disprove both John Scott's connection to the Hardy County Scotts and his removal to Randolph from (or through) the Monongalia County area. Perhaps the maiden name of his wife Mary can someday be learned, and perhaps we will someday know the connection between John Sproul and John Scott. These persons were antebellum residents at the site of Elkins, West Virginia, and hopefully their contribution to the development of the area can be remembered by interested persons in the future.

GUY TETRICK PAPERS

There are some wonderful rolls of microfilm at Colson Hall, WVU and also at Waldmore Library in Clarksburg, WV that can be a tremendous help to your research. They can probably be ordered through Interlibrary Loan from WVU.

These are the records of W. Guy Tetrick. He compiled them in the 1930's when he planned to do a history of the upper Monongahela Valley. He sent forms to every family in several counties of W. VA asking for family information. The microfilm was made from the originals which were stored in his son's office (W. Guy Tetrick, Jr.) until very recently. In fact, it has just been learned from Guy Jr.'s nephew that he passed away between Christmas and New Year's and that the original will now go to WVU, too.

Though the microfilm is in alphabetical order by submitter you need to go through EVERY roll. Information about the wife's family may well be on the husband's form. Good genealogists leave no stone unturned and look at the connecting families when searching for the hard-to-find ancestor!

This is marvelous work done by the Mistfers Tetrick, - Sr. for compiling it, and Jr. for preserving it. Family historians for ages to come will use them when searching for lost roots in WV.

OLD LEDGER REVEALS BUTTER AT EIGHT CENTS POUND BACK IN 1840-42 GRAIN AS CASH

by Wilbur C. Morrison

An old journal and ledger combined, kept in 1840-1842 by S. W. Cobun, who had a general mercantile store at Fairfield, now Overfield, on Elk creek, in Barbour county, contains numerous accounts showing a wide patronage and a complete country store, equal perhaps to the famous Criss store in that section now.

The book was found by Miss Dora Bernstein, a bookkeeper at the Chero-Cola bottling works, Short street, Montpelier addition, in the old homestead of the Sommers family, 736 West Pike street, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George L. Carson. How it came to be there is conjecture.

Butter then sold for eight cents a pound as shown in a credit entry in the account with Levi Douglas.

Thomas Nutter paid part of his account with wheat and oats. Wheat credits were also given to James McGlannery, Abram Simon, Alexander Pickens, John Douglas, Isaac S. Morris, Ashbel Reed, William W. R. Callihan, John Paugh, David Dilworth, Elias Perry, William Douglas, Abraham Chapman, Lewis C. Hall, Arthur Dever, Jesse W. Arnold, Jackson Costilow, Lewis Hickman, Mary Castor and others.

Credit In Grains

In a few instances patrons of the store were given credit for ginseng and tobacco. In other there were credits for oats and corn.

The store was well patronized as shown by the index of accounts in the old ledger. Here is a partial list of them:

Moses Arnold, Stephen Arnold, Jonathan Adams, Mary Adams, David Adams, Sarah Adams, William Armstrong, George W. Adams. Benjamin Bean, Diana Bean, William W. Tea retailed for $1 a pound. Coffee sold at 18 cents a pound. Needles brought five cents a dozen. Suspenders sold for twenty-five cents. Women bought "prints: at eighteen cents a yard. Fine combs brought twelve cents each.

Two hayforks sold for $1.25. Muslin cost twenty cents a yard. Credits were given for rags at three cents a pound. John C. Holden bought a pair of shoes for $2. James Costilow, Jr., bought one-fourth pound of powder for thirteen cents, six plugs of tobacco for thirteen cents and one ounce of cinnamon for six cents.

Dinner Plates

Mrs. David Dilworth purchased a set of common dinner plates for $2.50. Daniel Stout got a fur hat for $3.50. John Callihan bought a penknife for fifty cents. One fourth pound of brimstone cost Abram Chapman six cents. Jonathan McPherson paid thirty-seven cents for a hair brush.

Mason Overfield got two pounds of sugar for twenty-eight cents. Sugar was certainly high then. Slate pencils cost a cent a piece. We don't use them these days. A spool of Boss thread brought six cents. Tobacco sold for ten cents a pound. A quire of paper cost twenty-five cents.

A merchant charged ten cents a pound for rice. A cake of soap cost six cents. Looking glasses sold at seventy-five cents each. A fourth of a pound of ginger cost the housewife six cents. Butter plates sold at twelve cents each. One could buy wall paper at six cents a yard. Cotton drilling sold at seventeen cents a yard. Three cents a yard was the price of tape.

Indigo was worth eighteen cents an ounce. A cream pitcher could be bought for twenty-five cents. Calico cost nineteen cents a yard. A dozen inch screws were bought by Levi D. Douglas for twelve cents. James Benson paid sixty-nine cents for a tin bucket. Nails brought ten cents a pound. Tin pans sold for twenty-five cents each.

Linen Collar

Andrew Robinson bought a linen collar for twenty-five cents. Mrs. Matilda Dix was given credit for feathers at forty-five cents a pound. Mrs. John Paugh paid $2.50 for a coffee mill. Daniel Paugh bought twenty-five window lights at six cents a light. Adam Bumgardner purchased a half dozen buttons for six cents.

Flaxseed brought fifty cents a bushel. A pair of "fine" shoes cost I. A. Morris $1.62. John Garrison paid sixty-three cents for a half bushel of salt. Oats were worth twenty cents a bushel. Ribbon cost four cents a yard. Mason Overfield bought a half pound of spice for thirteen cents. Capt. John Patton bought a vial of oil spike for thirteen cents. Customers paid ten cents a pound for tallow.

James M. White was charged $1.25 for an umbrella. John Hall paid seventy-five cents for a hatchet. Sweet oil cost twenty-five cents a bottle. John Gall's boy bought a tin horn for eighteen cents and blew it. The merchant listed bonnet board at six cents a pound. Jonathan Hornbeck blew himself for a silk handkerchief at $1.25. Raisins brought twenty-four cents a pound.

Wheat 50 Cents

Wheat brought fifty cents a bushel the same as apples. William C. Trimble paid six cents for two awl handles. John Overfield bought a saddle blanket for eighty-seven cents.

Sugar in those days was sold to the merchant by farmers who had sugar tree camps, and he, in turn, sold it to others who did not make it.

Two yards of red flannel cost Esekial Shay sixty-eight cents. Nelson Peck paid $2 for a vest pattern. He bought a pair of gloves for thirty-seven cents. William Watson bought a milk strainer for eighteen cents. Nancy Watson used cotton handkerchiefs, costing nineteen cents each. A cake of chocolate cost George M. Nutter twelve cents and was cheap at the price. Cheese brought ten cents a pound and pepper twenty-four.

Mason Overfield paid twenty five cents for a bottle of ink and did some writing, as he bought a quire of paper at the same time for the same amount. Children's shoes sold at twenty-five cents a pair. The farmer received $1 for three bushels of corn. Flints were used in those days instead of matches. They cost a cent apiece. William Waggoner paid twenty-five cents for a mouse trap. There were rats in those days as now. Skillets came high at $1.50.

Day's Work 37 Cents

Abram Chapman was given credit on his account by one day's work at thirty-seven cents. Cambric sold for thirty-eight cents a yard. Iron and lead were much in demand. Alexander Reed wore a pair of socks costing thirty-seven cents. Morgan Bird paid forty-four cents for a peck of peaches at the store. The merchant charged eight and one-third cents a pound for bacon.

Bateman's drops were widely used at thirteen cents a vial. Polly Overfield was the purchaser of odd prints at forty cents a yard. Elisha Cottrill bought two spellers for thirty-three cents and penknife at the same time. As he stated he whittled.

James Reed used a "Mexican mixture:" for which he paid sixty-four cents. The nature of the mixture was not given. Isaac A. Morris got credit of $2 on his account for posting the merchant's books. Margaret McKinney paid fifty cents for a half bushel of dried apples. John H. Shuttleworth was charged $1.27 "per order."

Lead for Bullets

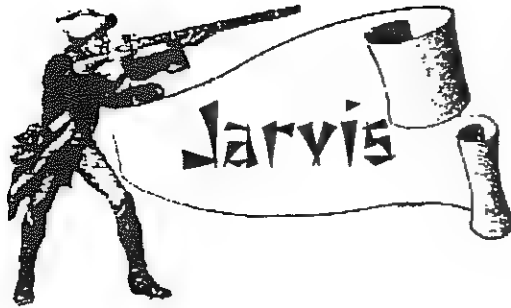

Those who molded their own bullets paid twelve and thirteen cents a pound for lead. Iron came at nine cents. Elizabeth Welch bought a nice straw bonnet for $3.50. Lewis Props got a fur cap for $3.25 and three plugs of tobacco at the same time for six cents. William Mount paid $2.75 for his fur cap. Mrs. David C. Coplin paid six cents for a thimble. Four tincups cost Nelson Dilworth twenty-five cents.

Many of those mentioned in the old book have descendants in Harrison, Barbour and other counties, and it is, therefore, of special interest to them.

I want to share with you and other readers of the Society's paper one of the most exciting and gratifying things of my recent years. This year, in the spring I took steps to fulfill a deep longing in my heart —to get a grave marker for our John Jarvis who fought in both Army and Navy during the Revolutionary War. I inquired of the Veterans to see if it were possible and was told, "Yes, if you can provide proof of service." Taking his pension application, and other papers, I hustled to the Veterans office in Ravenna (OH) who faxed those to the proper people and got an answer that the proof offered was sufficient.

The marker arrived about the first of July. Yesterday, the 17th of July, the beautiful sacred marker was placed on the approximate site of the resting place on Ancestor John's grave at Murphy's Creek near Weston. The aged Troy Fisher and my son Charles, with due reverence put it beside John's brother Joseph.¹² What a sense of awe and joy to see a long over-due recognition to that dear man from whom we spring...There are, according to Mr. Fisher, a long stretch of unmarked Jarvis graves on either side of John and Joseph! It reads:

¹² The confusion about Joseph: John had a brother Joseph and a son Joseph. The stone for brother and wife Hannah (Burkhammer) is yet readable. Descendants say John's son Joseph was drowned (probably in Hacker's Creek) at Weston in 183_?_. Mr. Fisher says at his demise (He is in his 90's and still cares for the Troy Fisher cemetery on Murphy's Creek) that the Township will assume care of the graveyard and have records made of the cemetery. But whether they can identify the numerous unmarked Jarvis dead is very unlikely.

I would like now to make or have made a sign to put up on the Rt. 2 road for the cemetery.

Anytime I can be of help - should you or any Kanawha County relatives need, I will answer any questions if I can.

Wishing you well. (I have been a widow for 2 yrs. now and it is a whole different world!)

As Ever, Pearl.

There will arise some debate about those dates, I'm sure. But using the dates on John's application as to approximate birth date, the Veteran's Adm. arrived at that approximate time, and since elsewhere other researchers had used the 1823 date as date of death, it seemed logical to not further muddle the waters. However to me, those dates are secondary to the fact that our blood ancestor fought for the freedom of our colonies, for freedom from England's rule. That makes him a man, who enlisted twice, that deserves mention in "Who's Who In America".

So—please do an article on how to get a marker for our deceased family members.

Along with the marker, 24 by 12 inches, came a bronze star flag holder on which were the numbers "1775". I proudly placed the first flag on grandpa John's grave!!!!

THE WILLIAM

REGER STORY

CONTINUES...Weston Independent", 28 Apr. 1948

Part 3: The Reger family is making Sorghum molasses

We usually had a Sorghum (cane molasses) patch and the harvesting of this was a big time in our lives. The cane had to be stripped and ran through the mill to extract the juice. This was put into a large kettle or preferably a larger pan, made for the purpose that would hold about eighty or a hundred gallons, put over a hot furnace and boiled down until it became molasses.

The "stirring off" was quite exciting as it had to be the proper consistency or it wouldn't keep. After the pan was drained as completely as possible we kids, all armed with wooden spoons or paddles would proceed to "lick the pan". This was lots of fun and to a boy or girl to whom sweets were almost unknown, this was the real stuff!

After the job was finished, which was late in the fall, if the "turn-off" was good we'd sometimes invite the neighbors in for a "taffy pulling". Sometimes there would be three or four in the community and, if invited you could attend them all. We would put the molasses in a kettle and boil them down until you could hardly stir them with a spoon; then pry a handful from the mass and knead and stretch it quickly until it hardens and put it on a plate or dish to cool. After it cools it becomes hard like candy, and if you have never tried it you have missed something!

A nice girl to hold one end of the stick while kneading it helps, but you should manage to get some of it into her hair so that you can help get it out.

The Blizzard of 1888

I do not remember the early spring of that year that we read about but I do remember the panic that followed the "big freeze" in March. The sap was up, the peach trees were in full bloom and other vegetation in proportion. What seemed to worry us most was the loss of our peach trees which were killed as completely as if a fire had hit them. Fortunately this was followed by a good growing season and, while we didn't have much fruit, etc., the world didn't come to an end and things went on much as they did before.

The Turnip Crop - A Tall Story

It must have been about this time we had a partly cleared field of three or four acres of "new ground" for part of our corn crop, when father accidentally cut his foot with an axe and was laid up for about a month. By the time he was able to work it was too late to plant corn, so about July, he decided to sow the field in turnips, which he did. It was black, loose soil particularly adapted to the purpose, and believe me we raised some turnips! No one had ever seen the like and people came for all over the community to see them. Many of them weighed, at least, two pounds and some of them three pounds or more. Father hauled them to Weston by the wagon load and sold them for thirty-five cents per bushel. The Hospital for the Insane took the most of them. There must have been three or four hundred bushels and turned out to be a more valuable crop than the corn would have been. We children ate turnips that fall and winter until we never cared much for them since.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad

Across the hill from our farm on Laurel Lick about two miles away, on Stone Coal, the B & O passed through Weston to Buckhannon. It was a narrow gauge road first built by the WV & Pittsburgh Company. Later it was taken over by the B & O and converted into a standard gauge road. When this was completed, it was announced that the first train would run from Weston to Buckhannon, on a Sunday, carrying some of the B & O officials, the Mayors and other dignitaries concerned, which was a matter of much interest to the people along the way.

READ ABOUT IT IN THE WESTON DEMOCRAT

To all researchers: I am presently reading the early years of the Weston Democrat in search of my own family. Time does not permit me to extract all of the data that I run across. But! I am making notes and will publish information as space permits under the above header. Most of the obits I am noting are not in the already printed "obit books" by Newman in the HCPD library. A few are... these I feel would be worthwhile for the researcher to have. The newspapers are available through inter-library loan at your public library from WVU - Colson Hall. Or you can write and have the librarian look up the article. All papers were issued on Saturday. * denotes long article,  worthwhile article.

Dr. Edward Brake Jackson

A Newspaper Clipping found in the folds of an old ledger consists of an announcement by Dr. E. B. Jackson (s/o George and Elizabeth Brake Jackson), dated November 12, 1824, in which he informed the public "that his health being pretty well re-established, he will, in the future, attend to all cases in the practice of physics, surgery and obstetrics." It continued:

"A statement is annexed, exhibiting his charges in future, which will be found lower than any heretofore adopted. Produce will be received in payment, if delivered in three months after the services are rendered."

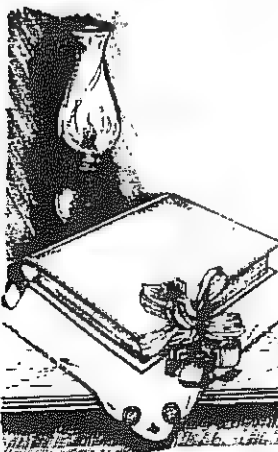

Doctor's Rates

Rates of charging were listed as follows:

"For a visit twenty-five cents, mileage 12½ a mile; bleeding and extracting teeth, twenty-five cents each; prescription from $1 to $2; medicine per dose, from 6¼ to twenty-five cents each; worm medicine, fifty cents; flux medicine, from $1 to $2; fever medicine, from $2 to $5; curing cancer, from $2 to $5. "

A postscript read as follows:

"In case of failure to cure fever, flux or cancer, upon an early application, there will be no charge for medicine. In cases of great emergency, an additional charge of from $5 to $10; for services rendered after bedtime, an additional charge of $1; and when employed as a family physician by the year, the charge will be from $5 to $10 in town, and double that in the country, to commence on the first day of January in each year." Samuel Alkire

On Sunday evening, the 22d of February, shortly after six o'clock the sad intelligence came to Weston that Samuel Alkire had died at his home on Hacker's creek very suddenly at fifteen minutes after six. He was apparently in his usual good health and after supper stepped across the hall to the sitting room, took his seat near the fire, and without a murmur or struggle, passed away just as if he had fallen into a deep and restful sleep. The only person immediately present at the time was Mr. Jacob Scarf, an employe of Mr. Alkire, who made known to the family about the house Mr. Alkire's condition, but by the time they gathered around him he was gone.

He was born in Lewis county then Virginia, February 5, 1835 and was therefore, 79 years and 17 days of age at the time of his death. He was the son of Nicholas and Elizabeth Bonnett Alkire, of this county who were people of recognized worthiness. He was united in marriage September 9th, 1862, to Eliza Post, the daughter of John Post and wife, who like the parents of Samuel Alkire, were people of sterling worth.

The children are three sons, W.S. Alkire, of Akron, Ohio, Dr. John P. Alkire of Middleton, West Virginia and Guy Alkire, of Hacker's creek, and two daughters, Mrs. W. W. Brannon and Mrs. Porter Arnold, of Weston, W. Va. He was buried in Fairview cemetery, near his home, Tuesday afternoon, after a short funeral service conducted by Rev. Butler of Hacker's creek, one of the best friends of the deceased. The remarks of Mr. Butler on the life, character and sudden death of Mr. Alkire were appropriate, touching and well delivered.

The esteem in which the deceased was held is best attested by the large attendance upon the funeral service and burial of Mr. Alkire, when the weather was so severely cold and disagreeable, and the roads almost impassable and rendered more so by heavy snow. Beautiful floral tributes were tendered by loving friends and relatives of the dear departed.

Among many others in attendance were the following friends of the family of the deceased; Messrs Clarence Curry, Jesse Lee, Lee N. Satterfield, of Monongah, Marion county, R.M. Morgan of Faimont; Frank Neely of Middleton, J.R. Lake of Worthington, Judge J.C. McWhorter and Dr. E. B. Alkire, of Buckhannon, Lee Alkire, of Clarksburg, Richard V. Malloy and Perry G. Alfred, of Weston. J.G. Jackson, Robert Jackson, Richard V. Malloy and Perry G. Alfred, of Weston. J.G. Jackson, Robert Jackson, Walter Neely, Dr. T. F. Law and wife of Jane Lew, Lee Post of Johnstown, and Dr. G. L. Cookman of Jesse's Run. These persons are mentioned especially to show their appreciation of the beloved deceased as manifested by their journeying in intensely cold weather.

Floral offerings by the Bank of Jane Lew, Department 16 of B.F. Goodrich Co. of Akron, Ohio, the Lodge of Elks of Fairmont and others were beautiful and words cannot express the appreciation of such large attendance and such thoughtful kindness by those nearest and dearest to Mr. Alkire.

Mr. Alkire was an extensive successful and progressive farmer and grasier, and his judgment in the line of his business was indeed most excellent. He was a careful, exhaustive and thoughtful reader, and in matters of public and political matters he was well informed. He was truly a Democrat in its broadest and best _____ upon principle and although frequently urged to be a candidate for positions of trust and honor, to which he would have been well adapted, he uniformly declined. He was a most useful man in his section for he was always cheerful to aid and counsel his friends and neighbors, and was generally regarded as a safe and considerate advisory. He was distinctly a peacemaker, and we can recall no individual within the range of _____ which belong to the peace makers than he. He was a loving husband, indulgent father and faithful and loyal friend. He was a noble high minded and generous soul. He and his life have _____ mankind. (the rest is unreadable).

Whose Cane Was It?

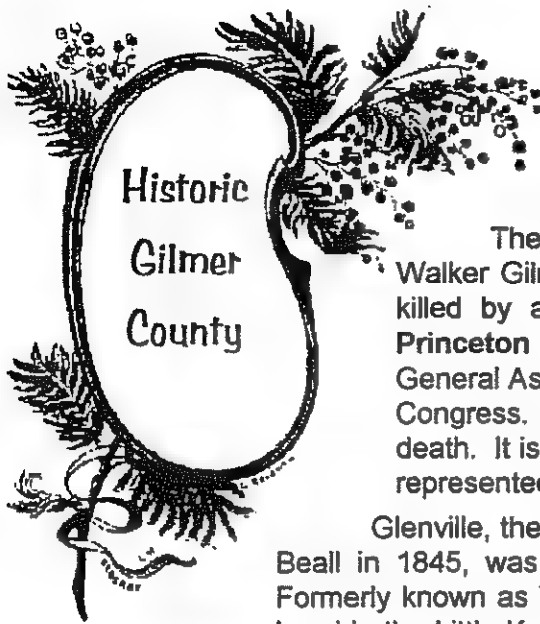

"Weston Democrat" March 23, 1890

A few days since Mr. Isaac Jackson, in tearing down what is known as the old "Powers House" on his brother's Minter's farm near Jane Lew found the head of a cane, artistically carved from buck's horn; on the top is the following inscription "Born July 25, 1790 A.B.W.". The cane has been burned almost to the handle. It has no doubt been stored in this old house for many years and belonged to some one of the first settlers of Hacker's Creek. The house is one of the oldest in this county.

Who was A.B.W?

Born July 25 1790
A. B. W.

The General Assembly of Virginia passed an act on 3 Feb. 1845 which established the County of Gilmer, its territory to be taken from the counties of Lewis and Kanawha.

The new county was named in honor of Thomas Walker Gilmer of Albemarle County who was accidentally killed by an exploding gun on board the Naval vessel Princeton in 1844. He was a former member of the General Assembly, former Governor, and former Member of Congress. He was Secretary of the Navy at the time of his death. It is interesting to note that Albemarle County is well represented by settlers to Gilmer County after its formation.

Glenville, the County seat, was laid out on lands of William H. Beall in 1845, was chartered in 1856, and incorporated in 1872. Formerly known as The Ford and Hartford, the town is located on a bend in the Little Kanawha River, which formed a narrow, little valley or glen. The name was suggested by C. B. Conrad.

Glenville is home to Glenville State College, which began in 1872 as the Glenville Branch of the State Normal School. Glenville State College is widely known for the quality of its Teacher Education Program. While the College is still a leader in teacher education, it has grown to be much more diverse and has received acclaim in other areas of study as well.

Glenville is also the site of the annual West Virginia Folk Festival, which was organized in 1950 by Dr. Patrick Gainer of West Virginia University. Originally organized in an effort to preserve West Virginia's traditional life, the Folk Festival has become, more or less, a Music Festival.

Jobs Temple, located a few miles below Glenville, is perhaps Gilmer County's best known church. It is the oldest church building in the County and is on the National Register of Historic Places. Jobs Temple was organized as a Methodist Episcopal Church (South), just prior to the Civil War, its members having left the Pisgah Church for the same reasons the entire Country was being torn asunder.

The Little Kanawha River flows through Gilmer County and divides the County into almost equal halves. In times past the river was an important transportation artery. Huge logs were formed into rafts and floated down river to Parkersburg. Rafts were also used to carry tobacco as well as other farm products to market. Rafts were followed by flatboats and barges which hauled freight up and down the river. With the coming of the gasoline powered boats, river transportation reached its peak. From about 1898 to 1931, the gasoline powered boat was just about the only way in or out of Gilmer County for both products and people. By 1931, however, the roads had improved to the point that travel by automobile had become more convenient and more common. Another important era had come to a close.

Is She a Flesher or a Hughes?

New member Patt Hart Keats writes:

With confidence I have always declared myself a descendant of Jesse Hughes until last night. While going back over OLD stuff and redigesting to get up to speed (after taking 10 years off for school) I found a problem that has always been there and I didn't see it.

I thought I descended from 1) Thomas Hughes, 2) Jesse Sr., 3) Jesse Jr., 4) Jacob B., 5) Edna Minerva. Hughes name drops off with Edna who married George Daniel Joslin in Ark.

4) Jacob B. m. Matilda Staats, 9 Dec. 1841 Jackson Co., WV. They later divorced and went on to marry many others.

Problem:

Fact 1: Edna Minerva was b. 29 Nov. 1837. She was age 4 at the time of marriage of Jacob B. and Matilda who was 17 ½.

Fact 2: Edna Minerva's marriage license reads "Miss Edna FLESHER" aged 15. I have held the original.

Fact 3: Jacob Hughes' will (1891 Jackson Co., WV) leaves his land (in Faulkner Co., Ark) to his two sons by his second wife and one dollar each to "his beloved daughters" Susan (Hughes) KING and Caroline (Hughes) MORRIS....NO EDNA MINERVA!

1850 census for Conway Co., Ark. - Jesse Jr., w/ Women's Fellowship Susannah, age 63 and Jacob age 31. No wife of kids w/Jacob. Where were Matilda and Edna Minerva in 1850?

In Harold Staats book (1921) Edna Minerva is not included with the children born to Matilda Staats and her "first" husband Jacob Hughes. Page 100 - Edna Minerva is mentioned under Matilda Staats.

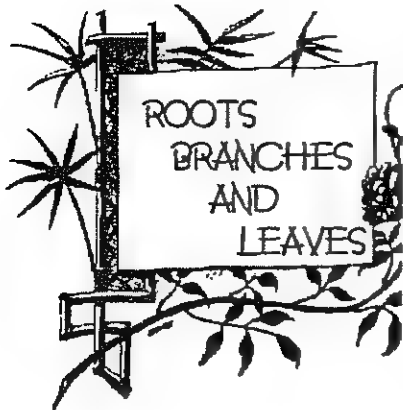

The FLESHER family was in the community and intermarriages with the Hughes and Staats family.

Well, plain as the nose on one's face! Can someone solve the mystery?? Am I a HUGHES or a FLESHER??? After years of "surprises" I am immune to personal insult about my relatives behavior! Anybody know of an earlier marriage for Matilda Staats?, or a child out of wedlock? What do you think?
